To Whom It May Concern:

When PepsiAmericas made the decision to construct a new Sales and Support Center in Fargo, there were a number of firms vying to do the work. We seriously considered four major companies, and, from among them, we selected Lexstar Development & Construction based on the company's reputation for quality construction and responsive customer service.

The Lexstar design team developed the most professional, detailed design, blending functionality with form. In addition to designing the building, Lexstar built the 27,000-square-foot building, managing all aspects of the construction process in a professional and reliable manner. The Sales and Support Center began operations in 2003 and now houses nearly 200 employees.

This letter is to endorse and recommend Robert H. Leslie and Lexstar Development & Construction for both design and a comprehensive range of construction services.

Sincerely,
